Directions

The Henry Wellcome Building is located just off Torrington Square, around the corner from the 'Clare Management Building' (on the path between Torrington Square and Woburn Square).

If driving

Many of the streets in this area are one-way, and there is no access to either Malet Street or Torrington Square from their north ends. You must make your way to Keppel Street to get into Malet Street. From Malet Street turn right through the University of London gates, then left into Torrington Square (drive down the slope). Park anywhere on Torrington Square and when you arrive at the Babylab we will provide you with a temporary parking permit.

If arriving by taxi

Please ask the driver to bring you to Woburn Square, West side, and drop you off at the end of the street. Walk up the slope at the top right-hand corner of the square. The Henry Wellcome Building is a new building on the right.
